ESL is a trusted network of laboratories with over 30 years of experience in providing legally defensible data..

Although recent technological advancements in hydraulic fracturing techniques have made the Marcellus and Utica shales the economical target formations, Environmental Service Laboratories has been working for the natural gas industry since its incorporation in 1988. Founded in 1988 to service the shallow gas industry operators located in and around Western Pennsylvania, ESL is now the leading laboratory for the natural gas industry and provides analytical support to a significant percentage of operators tapping into various gas reserves throughout Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia.

Why choose ESL?

Experience, data integrity, field professionalism, and customer service are key components of Environmental Service Laboratories' past, present, and future.

As a client of ESL, you will have dedicated project management knowledgeable on industry practices and regulations. ESL is accredited for all common predrill parameters and has crews of trained field technicians ready to effectively and efficiently collect legally-defensible samples. ESL can also report to individual landowners and state agencies directly.
